FOREWORD

This is a book, the Lone Pine,
to be read between the lines....

It is for you to supply your own theme. You interpret the story as you wish.

We set the background, for every story must have its setting.
We offer you as background for your story the buildings of your school---the buildings in which you work, play, and dream of what the future years will bring.

It has been a privilege to make this book. We ask that only you read it. Whether it be today, or twenty years from now, read it,
and remember some small part of your life at U.H.S.

To

MISS BERTHA DANIEL,

In sincere appreciation for the inspiration, assistance and advice so cheerfully and helpfully rendered us, we the class of 1948 dedicate this volume nine of the Lone Pine.

SENIOR PLAY....."PRIDE AND PREJUDICE"

PRESENTED.....NOVEMBER 22, 1947

Jane (Maxine Millner), the sweet-tempered beauty of the family, is not apt to prove a problem. Flirtatious Lydia (Anne Siegel), assisted by her fretful sister, Catherine (Inez Wilburn), elopes with a penniless-----but handsome----young officer (Paul Mosser), much to the disgust of her scholarly sister, Mary (Violet Crabtree). But Elizabeth (Shirley Mason) is so critical that her good looks hardly count. When her clergyman cousin (Paul Hines) comes to court her, she brushes him off without a second glance. Mama (Elizabeth Hines) is frantic. Then Jane falls deeply in love with the wealthy Mr. Bingley (Reginald Elder), and it looks as if an affair is possible between Elizabeth and Mr. Bingley's friend, Mr. Darcy. But Mr. Darcy (Leonard Scott) is a proud young man, and is shocked by Mama's vulgar attempts at matchmaking. He not only whisks himself off to London, but takes Mr. Bingley with him----before he is ensnared. Jane is heartbroken, and pines away until she becomes ill. Elizabeth is enraged that such an injustice should be done dear, sweet Jane. And then Mr. Darcy comes back to propose to Elizabeth "against his better judgment". She promptly tells him "No"! and berates him for taking Mr. Bingley away and breaking Jane's heart. But the deep attraction between Elizabeth and Darcy triumphs over the pride of one and the prejudice of the other, and both couples are re-united. Mrs. Bennet is delighted but Mr. Bennet (Gerald Chocklett) thinks she is slightly silly. Three daughters married. Now she can concentrate on her other two daughters. The play is made even more enjoyable by such able characters as Miss Bingley (Nancy Hendren), Mr. Bingley's haughty sister; Lady Catherine de Bourgh (Doris Epperson), Darcy's overbearing aunt; Hill (Ruby Jackson), the maid; and, Lady Lucas (Jean Laughon), a neighbor, and Charlotte, her plain daughter (Mildred Maddox).

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty Eight of Naruna High School, Campbell County, of the State of Virginia, having completed our pursuit of knowledge in school and wishing to distribute our various assets equally and accordingly, do hereby execute this last will and testament.

Article I

To the Faculty, the Senior Class bequeaths its love for study and fondness for all branches of learning that have been pursued during its high school course.

Article II

To Swanson Arthur, Gerald Chocklett bequeaths his ability to play ball.

To Elizabeth Gilliland, Inez Wilburn bequeaths her ability as a seamstress, so that you, Elizabeth, will not have to spend three months making one dress.

To the school, Paul Rosser leaves the baseball diamond. Do take good care of it as Paul did.

To Betty Wood, Violet Crabtree bequeaths her secret to keep a slim figure.

To Mr. Riegel, Leonard Scott bequeaths his ability to sing so that Naruna High School can have a Glee Club next year.

To Vivian Johnson, Nancye Hendren bequeaths her ability to get married. You had better get busy, Vivian!

To Mildred Toler, Edward Layne leaves his quiet, studious ways. May you, Mildred, prosper from it as Edward has.

To Shirley Evans, Jean Laughon bequeaths her size 16 gym suit.

To William Jennings, Ruby Jackson bequeaths her "sunny smile".

To Martha Roakes, Elizabeth Hines bequeaths her ability to laugh loud, so that you, Martha, might be heard.

To Rodgers Arthur, Shirley Mason bequeaths her good scholarship.

To Beatrice Elder, Mildred Maddox leaves her modest ways so that you, Beatrice, may be a dignified senior next year.

To Evelyn Riegel, Anne Riegel leaves her happy, jovial spirit of getting things going and being full of life. Evelyn, try tripping on the air as Anne does.

To Clara Morton, Maxine Millner bequeaths her "will to do" and spirit of cooperation.

Prophecy----Class of 1948

Mrs. Kent, our annual advisor, seems to be very popular in getting mail these days from her class of '48. She reports that---

Anne Riegel, head dietitian in the lunchroom at Naruna High School, says that cooking in a consolidated school is quite a job.

Ruby Jackson is working as a secretary in Richmond. She isn't married yet, but there's a sparkler on her finger.

Well, Jean Laughon is certainly in her seventh heaven as Supervisor of Virginia Baptist Hospital. Her latest patient is Gerald Chocklett, who broke his leg sliding in home after his third home run of that game. He is now playing with the Yankees.

Elizabeth Hines finally got her home in Gladys and says she's very busy keeping house.

Nancy Hendren, our homemaker of the Senior Class, is now in her own home, practicing what she learned in Home Economics.

The Home Ec. Department has got a new face. Inez Wilburn is teaching sewing in Mrs. Riegel's place. What happened to Mrs. Riegel?

Down on Clark's farm, Mildred Maddox Clark is practicing too, what she was taught in Home Ec.

Maxine Millner is nursing in a hospital in New York. She likes the northern climate fine.

Shirley Mason is in New Mexico teaching in a Mission School.

Violet Crabtree is working as a stenographer for Leonard Scott, who is a banker on Wall Street. Violet weighs 150 and has got rather slow in her typing.

On the cruiser "Maria" Edward Layne is Admiral. He looks rather dashing in his uniform.

Paul Rosser is managing his dairy farm in Wisconsin. His wife, who graduated from Radford, makes an excellent housekeeper.

An ideal Senior would have:

hair like Jean Laughon eyes like Leonard Scott mouth like Nancy Hendren hands like Inez Wilburn teeth like Mildred Maddox complexion like Maxine Millner speaking ability like Elizabeth Hines
athletic ability like Gerald Chocklett
good humor like Ruby Jackson musical ability like Shirley Mason dignity like Violet Crabtree originality like Anne Riegel willing to serve like Edward Layne kindness like Paul Rosser

Can you imagine-----

1. Ruby being short and fat?
2. Paul jitter-bugging?
3. Inez picking daisies by the Jordan river?
4. Leonard losing an argument-----and liking it?
5. Shirley fat and buxom?
6. Gerald being on time for anything?
7. Jean getting in at 11?
8. Edward being noisy?
9. Anne not trucking it down red house road?
10. Elizabeth letting someone else get a word in?
11. Mildred not sewing with Clark thread?
12. Maxine without a rudder?
13. Nancy cooking?
14. Violet playing on the softball team?
